

Oral Presentation

December 18, 2017

As the holidays are quickly approaching, we would like to recognize special family traditions. We would like each student to think about a meaningful family tradition or event to share with the class. You may bring in pictures, a written report, or an object to help explain your special family tradition. All children should be prepared to present on Monday, December 18th.

Presentations will be held the week of the 18th. This will be an exciting way to kick off the holiday season and recognize how special and unique each family is. Please practice presenting at home in front of an audience! We're looking forward to learning about each of your family traditions!

Happy Holidays!
